PRESS RELEASE

Sure Start is coming to Meden Valley, targeting the Northfield area of Mansfield Woodhouse, and areas in and around Market Warsop, including the villages of Church Warsop and Warsop Vale. (However, we will not exclude any family who live elsewhere from using our services or activities if they wish to use them.)

Sure Start aims to improve services for children under 4 and their families, including pregnant women and those people planning a family too.

Sure Start is about giving children the best possible chance to grow up happy and healthy and ready for school. It will do this by working with parents, families and workers from relevant organisations to develop a programme of activities and services that people want and need, now and in the future. About 818 children and their families will benefit and we are now well on the way to making it happen. Our delivery plan was submitted to the Sure Start Unit in London on 8th March and our Programme Manager, Jude Burgess is now in post.

So what will be doing? Well, having spent time talking to parents and families across the area we now have some valuable information about the kinds of things that parents/families feel are missing. Workers too have shared ideas about what needs to be in place to enable them to support families better. These ideas will form the basis of what Sure Start will do in Meden Valley, and although the details are still being worked up, here is an idea of what we hope to do:-

- ◆ Visit every family living in the Sure Start area to make sure that they know about us and about the activities/services there are locally that they could use.
- ◆ Support the extension/development of new services, such as toddler groups, toy library, play and learn sessions, crèche sessions and quality childcare.
- ◆ Make sure that all children and their families have access to local facilities, including new Sure Start buildings.
- ◆ Provide health care and advice in a supportive and sensitive way.
- ◆ Encourage dads to get involved too!
- ◆ Create opportunities for families to learn together.
- ◆ Ensure children and families with special needs get the support and services they need.
- ◆ Encourage families to get involved in planning events and running the Sure Start programme.
- ◆ Create opportunities for all those working to support families to co-ordinate what they do and develop ways to work together.

In the meantime we are busy recruiting staff and looking for somewhere to be based. Further information will be available soon with a full programme of activities - watch this space for details!!!.

GARDENING NOTES FROM GMH YOUR GARDEN IN APRIL

Gardens around houses can be made to grow small areas of vegetables, unless of course they are completely covered by shrubs. But even here some salads alone can be accommodated in small troughs or pots.

Seeds of lettuce, radish, spring onion or mustard (dress) may be purchased and sown at fortnightly intervals (a small pinch each time) and it will give you produce through the summer, just keep sparrows off. A few strands of black cotton stretched across the plants will be enough to deter them. Mustard and cress must have overhead protection or they become gritty and not easily cleaned, some will say it is not worth it if you count your time, but it is good exercise and when harvesting you can do it with pride and satisfaction.

Some of the usual bedding plants make good pot specimens if you are so minded, lobelia, petunia and fibrous rooted begonias will flower all summer provided they are watered regularly and given a liquid feed once a fortnight. The time for increasing is opportune for perennials by division or young shoots, but the new gardener will probably rely on hardy annuals for cut flowers for home decoration, April is the ideal time for sowing these. An annual is a plant which grows, flowers and seeds within one year, its business is to produce a seed and this it will do. Too frequently annuals are overcrowded. Thinning will ensure reasonable stems for cutting and a prolonged season of growth as side shoots are able to develop. Not all annuals are suitable for cutting, generally they have to be of a reasonable stem length and last a few days in vases. Useful cut and come again annuals include cornflower, calendula, scabias and salpiglossis.

The various everlasting flowers are useful for winter decoration. Gather these when half open and hang the bunches upside down to dry, this will keep the stems straight. Double Shirley poppies are worth growing, and are interesting as it may be observed that the flower only expands from the bud at dawn. Quite a number of half hardy annuals may be sown directly in the ground at the beginning of May and whilst naturally commencing to bloom later than the same varieties raised under glass actually prolong the season. The single aster, better than the doubles for home decoration, succeeds excellently this way. Zinnias are another variety to try, these like the salpiglossis like a sheltered but sunny spot. Surprisingly and unexplainable cut flowers respond to shock treatment by lasting longer than when untreated. This is achieved by either scorching the cut ends by gas ring or fire, or, in the case of flowers with wiry stems, placing the bottom 2 inches or so in hot water for a few seconds.

Gardening is basically simple when one has become acquainted with the varying needs of each of the many kinds of vegetables and flowers if past experience has been limited then seek advice. It may be of some satisfaction to the beginner to learn the best of gardeners don't win all the time. Beware of frost on fruit blossom, try and cover if frost is forecast. Put stakes in to support tall growing plants like lupins and delphiniums. This is the busiest time of year for sowing flower and vegetables seeds, and pricking out seedlings.

Make a plan in your diary so you don't miss any sowing dates. As plants wake up to the new season, be on the lookout for pests and diseases. Slugs are at work so be vigilant.

On the lawn cut high the first couple of mowings to encourage the roots to go down for water, this will also make the grass more hard wearing. Resist the temptation to water the lawn the longer the grass is you shouldn't need to water it - once watered it will rely on you to keep at it. Scarify the lawn throughout the summer to remove dead grass. This will promote stronger, healthier grass and the more you scarify it the thicker the coverage will become. Keep edges trimmed to make look neater, it will also help prevent grass growing into borders.

The past winter will have caused considerable damage, some crops will have failed, whilst others have come through pretty well, so keep this in mind for future sowings. Be prepared to make changes with improved crops or quality in view.

The top ten troubles to Gardeners, in alphabetical order, aphids, caterpillars, cats and dogs, grey mould, mildew, red spider mite, rust, slugs, weeds and whitefly.

Happy Gardening

WARSOP MENS GROUP

The group met for their last meeting of the winter series on Tuesday 12th of March 2002 in the Parish Centre when the speaker was Mr David Murfin of Church Warsop.

Mr Murfin, who is a part time gamekeeper addressed the group of around 25 members, fully attired in Gamekeeper/Deerstalker clothes illustrating his most interesting talk with video footage of local scenes and Wildlife, together with the rearing of pheasant for local shooting syndicates. He brought with him a comprehensive exhibition of the equipment he uses when Deerstalking together with trophies from Scotland where he spends time on Deer culls for Scottish Forestry and for land owners.

His wife Angela assisted during the evening with a raffle for 2 joints of Venison and a bottle of Red Wine kindly provided by herself and David which raised £28.00 for Centre Club Funds and was won by Mr Ken Banford.

Mr Dick Wilshire gave a vote of thanks on behalf of those present and Mr Geoff Tolson was on the Bar.

The next meeting, the first of next winters series will be held in the Parish Centre, Members Club Room on Tuesday 12th of November 2002 at 7.45 PM. A reminder, together with more detail will be given in the October edition of this newspaper.

Mr Brian Bennett.

MEDEN MONEY TREE CREDIT UNION IS GROWING

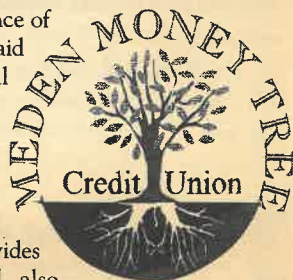

After planting its roots in Market Warsop with the opening of two Collection Points, Meden Money Tree have now branched out into Shirebrook and opened a Collection Point in the Elliott Yates Estate Agency in the Town.

More volunteers are required in the area willing to be trained for Collection Point or other duties. The training is provided locally and only takes a few hours. Thereafter it is planned to open additional Collection Points.

Membership is open to anyone who lives or works in the Common Bond Area, with junior savers achieving full membership at 18 years of age. After saving regularly for 12 weeks members can apply for a low cost loan from the Credit Union. The first loan can be for up to 1- times savings, the second loan for double your savings and subsequent loans for up to three times savings as members build their credit worthiness within the Credit Union. There are no set-up costs, hidden charges or penalties on loans and the interest is calculated at the rate of 1% per month on the remaining balance of the loan. For a loan of £100 paid back over one year the total repayment is £106.50. The first loans have now been approved in Market Warsop and membership is gradually increasing.

In the event of the death of a member, the Credit Union provides insurance to cover loans, and also, for members up to 70 years of age, to increase their savings that are paid to their nominee. This is no charge to the members for this benefit as it is paid by the Credit Union from its income. If you would like to become a member, a volunteer or just obtain more information about the Credit Union please call in The Elliott Yates Estates Agency or telephone 01623 747956 in Shirebrook or 01623 845858 in Market Warsop.

NEW EVENTS FOR WARSOP CARNIVAL SUNDAY 7th JULY 2002

The Carnival Committee have booked a BMX and Mountain Bike Display Team for one of the main ring attractions at the Carnival this year. They are a works team who will also have a static display on the Carnival Ground that will be of interest to bikers of all ages. A Hawk display team has also been booked and it is hoped that the birds of prey do not decide to take up residence in the village this year. The Committee are also investigating the availability of a Skate Board Display team for the main ring and other attractions. Dragon Helicopters will be on site for those who wish to take a birds-eye view of the village and the Carnival Ground. Some of the views from last year can be seen on the Warsop Webb Site.

For the musically minded it is hoped to have local groups performing on stage at the site on the Saturday and Sunday evening but this will need to be cleared by the local authority.

A balloon race is also planned together with many other sideshows and displays, most of which will be provided by local businesses and voluntary groups. It is hoped that there will be some new ideas brought forward this year to compliment the Golden Jubilee Theme, in addition to some of the older and always popular stalls. There has been a request to extend the football competition and this will be achieved by starting the games earlier in the day.

If your club, group, school, organisation or company wish to participate in any way start making plans now, July 7th will soon be here.

Please book your pitch early. You can do this by contacting Andy Wetton on telephone number 842138 or drop a note with your details into his shop. Watch this space in the coming months for more details and information.

Book Review by Tracy Measures

The Empty Chair by Jeffrey Deaver

Lincoln Rhyme is a criminalist and also a quadraplegic. He travels to a spinal injuries centre in the hope that some experimental surgery will improve his condition. But nothing goes to plan when he and his assistant are called in to help a kidnapping case by someone who goes under the name of the insect boy. He has killed once and has kidnapped a young girl who he has hidden away and is also on the run with a local nurse who happened to be in the wrong place at the wrong time.

This book is so full of twists it'll make you dizzy and it keeps you guessing right up to the last page.

Chicken Soup for the Soul by Jack Canfield & Mark Victor Hansen

This book is a collection of short true stories, some will make you laugh, some will make you cry but each story has a moral to it and will make you sit up and think about your life. Stories of courage, poverty, disability and no hope that all have happy endings will fill you with inspiration. The title of this book really does do it justice

Perfect Victim by Christine McGuire & Carla Norton

This is the true story of Colleen Stan who in 1977 was kidnapped by Cameron and Janice Hooker. She was kept in a coffin type box and help captive whilst enduring horrific torture for 7 years. Colleen was brainwashed by Cameron who forced her to sign a "slave contract" and made her believe that if she ever tried to escape the "Slave Company" would kill her family.

Colleen had several chances to escape but the fear of "The Company" kept her in the clutches of Cameron Hooker. Finally in 1984 and with the help of Janice, Colleen escapes and there then follows a lengthy court case in which Colleen and her solicitor, Christine McGuire, has to prove to the jury that she WAS a slave and WAS kept against her will.

This horrific story would make even fiction seem unbelievable.

Time To SM Goodbye by Judith Gould

Joanna and Josh Lawrence, golden couple with a glamorous Californian lifestyle and a thriving business specialising in rare Orchids. But Joanna has a secret, she is dying and sets out to find a suitable replacement for Josh for when she has gone. But things don't run smoothly especially when Joanna's scheming sister starts a passionate affair with the Lawrence's arch rival, Peter Rossi. A mixture of Jackie Collins and Alan Titchmarsh all rolled into one!

Inner Wheel Club of Warsop – March 2002

Our March meeting held at the Hostess Restaurant was a business meeting.

President Marlene asked the members to stand for a minute's silence in memory of Diana Goodman, a Past president who died recently. She welcomed two guests, Don Crosby and Diana's sister Isabel.

Grace was said by Jean Nock.

He told us about his visit to the Lincs and Notts Air Ambulance, when he, along with his grandson, presented them with a cheque being a donation in lieu of flowers for Joan.

Secretary Jean Nock read the correspondence and Charter invitations.

Lesley Palmer, Overseas Chairman, said some of the blankets were going to Europe and some goods would be going with the Police convoy in May.

Cynthia Parsons reported that the charity Shop was booked for the 18th – 23rd March, and a rota was compiled, also a fashion show is to be arranged for Monday 13th May at the Hostess. More details later.

Margaret Huddleston gave the Almoners report.

The nominations for 2002-2003 were discussed, and the visit to the Glasgow conference was finalised. The dates for the May and June meetings have to be changed.

Eunice Burton thanked the members for their kindness to Diana during her illness, for the cards, flowers and visits to Diana and herself. She appreciated all the kind thoughts.

An outing to York is to be arranged for April or May 2002.

Sheila Simpson, Club Correspondent

WAR
SOP

Footpaths

& Countryside Group

From this time of year our workdays on the first Sunday of each month are devoted mainly to grass cutting and hedge trimming to keep Warsop's footpaths clear. As I have mentioned before, the best way to prevent paths from becoming overgrown is for people to walk along them so I would like to say thank you to the many regular walkers who make our job easier!

Our February walk was particularly enjoyable with ten people taking the minibus to Friden on the High Peak Trail in Derbyshire. We completed a circular walk including Middleton Dale and Long Dale.

Our walk on Sunday 21st April will be even further afield. We are spending the day at Gibraltar Point on the Lincolnshire coast, an area that is particularly fascinating for its bird and plant life. If you are interested in either of these areas, or just fancy a bracing walk in the fresh air, why not join us? We shall be leaving Warsop Library at 8am, you will need a packed lunch (and maybe breakfast!) and weatherproof clothing. There will be a very small contribution towards the cost of the minibus. You are welcome to join us, please get in touch to confirm details.

On May 19th we will be walking from Edale in Derbyshire. In June our destination will be the Roches in the western Peak District. Although these could be fairly strenuous walks, this group believes in taking its time and we regularly stop to investigate the plants, fungi, birds and landscape (particularly on uphill sections!).

You can contact the Secretary on 01623 846281

Want to get fit?

A new gym to rival any in the District has been opened at Meden Sports Centre in Warsop.

The gym features the latest 'Pulse' fitness equipment, including tread-mills, rowing machines, steppers, resistance equipment and dumb-bells.

"We have fitted it out with some of the best equipment available and it is second to none in the District."

As well as general usage by members of the public, the gym will become an integral part of the Council's GP Referral Scheme. Previously, people on the GP Referral Scheme living in Warsop have had to travel to Sherwood Baths in Mansfield Woodhouse for their gym sessions.

Craig Bonar, Acting Head of Leisure said, "The gym compliments the existing fitness provision at Meden Sports Centre and provides something of real quality for people living in and around Warsop."

"If the general health and fitness of local people is to be improved it is vital that we provide good facilities like this. The new gym is part of our strategy to make this type of facility available to everyone, both in terms of price and location."

Induction prices at the gym are £3.20 for existing members of other Council gyms and £8.95 for new members with individual sessions costing £3.20 each. Monthly saver cards are available for £24.95 per person or £39.95 per couple.

WARNING

Reading - this could seriously improve your health!

Are the people of Warsop just so fit and healthy that they don't need to do any exercise? I know many people will have joined the new gym or perhaps do a lot of walking but what about those that don't? It could be beneficial and not to mention a lot more fun to join a Keep Fit class (oh don't groan just hear me out). There are several Keep Fit classes in Warsop; Church Warsop Community Centre has two different classes every week on Mondays (7.00pm - 8.00pm) and Thursdays (6.30pm - 7.30pm). Mondays have been a nightmare as the instructor needs just 5 people to attend in order for her to be able to pay for the rent on the room and she long gave up the hope of becoming rich from teaching Keep Fit, in fact most of the time she is out of pocket herself. We have leaflet dropped to the point where we have nearly dropped ourselves, not to mention being chased by numerous dogs, got our hands stuck in a variety of unfriendly letter boxes (our respect for Postmen went up that week I can tell you) and for what perhaps 4 people out of the 200 or so houses we targeted turned up. Oh yes they were so full of enthusiasm, yes they wanted to lose weight and they were going to get fit and come every week and then then nothing, we never saw them again!!!! The Keep Fit class at the Working Mens Club on Tuesday evenings (7.00pm - 8.00pm) is a similar story, a few months ago, the dance floor was nearly full but where have they all gone? What has happened to all that enthusiasm about getting fit and "oh yes I'm definitely coming next week"? There's no doubt that keeping fit is hard work and perhaps even harder if you don't enjoy it but going along to Keep Fit classes can be fun and it doesn't matter if you don't know anybody there because you soon make friends - another reason to go perhaps! So why not give it a try and once you get into a routine (which is half the battle) you'll be amazed how much more energy you have when you get home, not to mention your increased fitness level. It doesn't matter how unfit you are at the moment or how old you are (we have a 79 year old lady who comes every week without fail) YOU can work at YOUR own pace and level, nobody is going to look or laugh at you because they are too busy concentrating on themselves. Even as I write this now there is yet another new Keep Fit class starting on Wednesday evenings (7.00pm - 8.00pm) at the Oaklands, that's one nearly every day of the week to chose from. So come on Warsop people, we're waiting for you!!!!

Natural Health and Beauty - Healthy Eating

I have just finished running a 10 week course called 'Slim-stay slim' for the Warsop Branch of the WEA. The average attendance on the course was 22 students each week who have lost a staggering 13 stone 8 pounds between them in the 10 weeks.

Well done to all the students. The weight loss was achieved by following a reduced calorie healthy eating plan as recommended by the British Heart Foundation.

A calorie is a unit of energy and all foods and most drinks have a calorific value. On the nutritional information panel on the back of packets, tins and prepared food it is written down as 'Energy - kcal' with a number following it. An average woman needs 2000 calories each day and an average man 2500. I say average as individuals do not use the same number of calories. Cars have different fuel consumption depending on the engine capacity and driving conditions; similarly some of us do not use as much fuel as others. In general larger engines use more petrol and so it is with people, the larger the body the more calories we burn. We put on weight when we take in more calories than we use. The way to lose weight is to either to decrease the input by reducing the calories eaten or to increase the output with more exercise. The best way to lose weight is a combination of decreased input and increased output.

A healthy weight loss is 1 to 2 pounds per week and women can achieve this by cutting down to 1500 calories per day and men to 2000 calories daily.

A balanced diet is based on: plenty of bread, cereals and potatoes, 5 portions of fruit and/or vegetables each day, low fat milk and dairy produce, lean meat, fish or alternatives such as beans, pulses and nuts and very little of foods containing fat and sugar.

If you are interested in learning more about healthy eating or losing weight the next Slim - stay slim course is advertised around the town or with the WEA courses in this edition of the Warsop and District News.

Boughton Pumping Station at Ollerton

When the weather improves, why not visit the Boughton Pumping Station.

Boughton Pumping Station is a registered charity formed to restore and preserve the building, provide an educational resource for the building and its trade, and to be a source of local employment. Without your help we cannot achieve any of these objects. Currently we succeed because of our commitment to service, and your patronage.

Boughton Pumping Station, a former water pumping station, is a magnificent Edwardian Grade 2 listed building set at the heart of some of Nottinghamshire's most picturesque countryside.

The modern internal refurbishment includes a superb conference facility. The unique setting provides a special atmosphere for a wide range of private functions including weddings and those special anniversaries, and business events such as seminars and conferences.

CIRCULAR WALKS IN SHERWOOD Gleadthorpe and Budby Forest South

Explore the quieter parts of the forest to discover the Birklands area that contains many ancient oaks and silver birch trees that provide a rich habitat for wildlife. The northern part of the forest is known as Budby Forest South, which nowadays is heathland and in August is covered by purple flowering heather.

Distance: 12km (7.5 miles)
Duration: 3.5 hours
Starting point: Edwinstowe Youth Hostel (SK 624672)
Map required: OS Explorer No 270 Sherwood Forest

THE ROUTE

From the Hostel cross over the road, go through the car park and veer left through the fairground site. Ascend slightly to enter the trees and in 300m, at a major path junction, continue ahead bearing left to a yellow waymark post. Continue forward for 1km then fork left, again at a yellow waymark post, to arrive at a wide forest road. Turn right, with the tress on your left and heathland on your right for 1.5km. You are now on the Robin Hood Way.

At a wide junction, with a four-way signpost, turn left to descend for 500m to a second four-way signpost. Cross over to the path opposite and after 300m turn right. Follow the narrow path with trees on your right and a hedge left. Cross a stile, by a gate, and continue ahead to Gleadthorpe Grange and a minor road.

Cross over the road to follow a metalled track for 500m to a track crossroads. Turn right on an earth track to enter a plantation then after 150m take the signed path, right, through the trees, for 500m to rejoin the minor road.

Cross over, pass through the large bridlegate, and continue ahead along a metalled track, crossing the river Meden to locate the four-way signpost, previously seen. Turn left, uphill, to where the trees on the left end, to another wide junction. Continue ahead on the track signed 'Budby' for just over 1km to the far side of Ladysmith Plantation. Veer slightly right to a yellow-topped post and follow the clear track for 1km to the tree line.

Still keeping straight ahead, following the yellow waymarkers, for 600m to a hand gate in a crossing fence. Turn left, between fences, to emerge to the right of the Visitors Centre. Turn right, to follow the Robin Hood Way signs, through the car park and leave the trees at the edge of the cricket ground. Take the perimeter path, left, then at the toilet block bear right back to the Hostel.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Edwinstowe-The village is situated in the heart of Sherwood Forest and was named after Edwin, the King of Northumberland in the 7th century. The church of St Mary was mentioned in the Doomsday Book and is said to be the venue for the marriage of Robin Hood and Maid Marian. A plaque on the churchyard wall marks the end of the Robin Hood Way.

Sherwood Forest and the Visitors Centre-The area now known as Sherwood Forest is a 450 acre woodland, mostly oak in the north and west of Edwinstowe. In the Middle Ages 'Forests' included woodland, heath, agricultural lands, villages and even whole towns. After the forest ceased to be used for hunting by the Royal Family, in the mid 17th century, large areas were cleared. Many of the older trees are now hollow and others have a bare appearance at their tops due to rotting, giving them the name 'Stag-Headed Oaks'.

The Visitors Centre was established by Nottinghamshire County Council and has a restaurant and an exhibition about the Forest and Robin Hood. In the summer film and slide shows are held at weekends and Forest Rangers, who are based there, often lead guided walks. Further information on all these events, together with numerous leaflets, can be obtained from the Information Centre.

Southwell Workhouse

The following article is supplied courtesy of
LUCY MILLARD at the Newark Advertiser

The National Trust has opened the former Victorian workhouse on the outskirts of Southwell as a museum early next century.

The trust bought the crumbling three-storey building - a grade II listed building - in summer, 1997, to save it from being developed into luxury flats. Now its future depends on how much the trust can raise.

The building is in a very poor condition. Basic repairs such as reroofing and preventing further deterioration are likely to cost more than £1m alone.

The building on Upton Road is one of the town's most important historic landmarks. The trust paid £250,000 for it from its emergency funds.

Sir John Starkey, who lives in Southwell, is chairman of the trust's East Midlands Regional Committee and advised the trust to buy the building.

He said: "The trust was looking for such a building and when I spotted the opportunity I could hardly believe my luck. Here was the prototype workhouse right on my doorstep and for sale."

The trust estimates it will need at least £11.5m for the project and is looking at all the ways which could bring in money including appeals, bids for grants and donations. It is also planned to submit a bid for National Lottery money.

A number of surveys have already been carried out to help clarify how much money is needed for work on the building before it can be opened to the public. The surveys will also provide evidence to show how the building was used, for instance where the doors used to be, which will help in presenting it to visitors.

Miss Susanna Smith has been appointed as project researcher to look into the building's history by speaking to local people who lived or worked at the workhouse this century and to look at local records and archives.

It is one of the finest remaining examples of a Victorian workhouse in England - there were originally more than 600. The trust and the Royal Commission on the Historic Monuments of England both consider it to be in the top six worthy of preservation.

It is the only workhouse owned by the trust and would be the only building of its kind to be opened entirely as a museum for the public in the country.

East Midlands regional director for the National Trust Mr Christopher Pennell said the building had an unrivalled potential to teach about the past and to improve the understanding of the lives of a large and currently overlooked underclass.

"We are working closely with interested parties and local people to find options for securing the long term future of this workhouse," he said.

"It is like bringing a drowning man to a riverbank. We still have to revive him and if we can not get sufficient funds we have a real problem."

The workhouse was built in 1824 at a cost of £6,500 and was known as the Thurgarton Hundred Incorporated Workhouse.

It served 49 parishes surrounding Southwell with each represented by Guardians who held regular meetings in the committee room at the workhouse.

The system implemented at the workhouse was developed by the Rev John Becher and Mr George Nicholls, an overseer of the poor in Southwell.

It became a model for workhouses throughout the country following the 1834 Poor Law Amendment Act which resulted in hundreds of workhouses being built. After the Act was passed the Southwell building became known as the Southwell Union Workhouse.

The workhouse could house up to 158 paupers, who were segregated into male and female classes. The old and infirm were considered an "infirm and guiltless" class and were given an easier regime than the "idle and profligate able-bodied" paupers who were made to work.

Men were confined to the east wing, women to the west, with children in quarters at the back. An exercise yard was provided for each class.

There was a large vegetable garden, pasture and orchard in front of the building with a laundry infirmary and a cow house at the back.

Paupers entered by the side gate, were interviewed, their clothes cleaned and put away, and they were issued with clogs or boots and a workhouse uniform.

The men had to work breaking stones and old bone,s unpicking old rope and weeding and gardening. The women did the cooking, washing, milking, spinning, knitting and needlework.

Their meals consisted of milk or gruel and bread for breakfast and supper, with beef broth or pea soup for dinner on set days of the week.

Bad behaviour was punished with a spell in the refractory cell. Paupers could apply to leave if they could support themselves but those who just ran away with their workhouse uniform could end up in the House of Correction charged with stealing the clothes.

By 1870 the number of paupers needing special health care had increased so a new infirmary was built. By 1926 another infirmary was needed as the workhouse changed its emphasis from a solution to unemployment towards care for the ill and elderly.

After 1928 Poor Law legislation, the workhouse became the Southwell County Institution but was popularly known as Greet House. It no longer took children and they were moved to a new building next door - Caudwell House.

The workhouse regime gradually made way for individual family bedsits after the 1950s. It was still being used for temporary accommodation by the county council in the 1980s and was finally sold to a developer in 1996.

The workhouse is only the third place owned by the trust in Nottinghamshire. It also owns Clumber Park and Mr Straw's House in Worksop.

LABOUR RESIST BID TO MOVE WARSOP INTO MANSFIELD

Labour Party members in Nottinghamshire say they will oppose Boundary Commission plans to incorporate Warsop into Mansfield's Westminster seat. Members in Nottinghamshire say they will oppose Boundary Commission plans to incorporate Warsop into Mansfield's Westminster seat.

The commission's proposal, published tomorrow, follows a review to even out electorates in the eight county constituencies.

The addition of Warsop, which has been in Bassetlaw since 1983, would make Mansfield the largest Nottinghamshire seat with 77,524 voters and bring it into line with the district council area.

But Warsop's MP John Mann, who is soon to open a new permanent office in the town, told Chad that Warsop was "fed up of making up the numbers" and insisted the change would not benefit residents.

"One of the reasons is that the one remaining colliery and the biggest employer, Welbeck Colliery, is in Bassetlaw district and the Boundary Commission needs to look at the economic case longer term," he said.

"The other point is that Warsop has just applied for town council status which is a sign of its growing move to autonomy and independence, which is what I think it needs."

Mansfield MP Alan Meale said: "I would like to see the boundaries stay as they are because the new member for Bassetlaw has built up a good rapport with Warsop people."

"But if the boundary review remains the same, I would be more than delighted to represent them."

The move, plus other possible changes in the north of the county, could make Bassetlaw a marginal seat in future elections.

Council chief executive Richard Goad said that from an administrative point of view, the arrangement would be "excellent" as Warsop residents receive most of their services from Mansfield.

Labour's opposition could force a public inquiry and Mr Mann is confident the commission will change its mind.

Whatever the outcome, no changes will be made before the next general election, as the national review will not be completed until 2006.

The proposals must then be approved by Parliament before being implemented

Unit 2000

Unit 2000 After School Club 11-16 Years

A ten week trial will begin shortly to determine whether an after school club could be successful within the parish. The club will run initially for two days a week, starting directly after school and finishing at 5.30pm. Young people who attend will be supervised by qualified staff and will be able to relax by either taking part in activities, playing pool, playing computer games or if they really want, they can do their homework! There will be a small charge of £1.00 per session, this will cover all activities, supervision, insurance's etc.

A tasty snack will also be included in each session free of charge.
