Easter Fun at Carr Bank Park

The second annual Easter Egg Hunt at Mansfield's Carr Bank Park was an egg-ceptional success this year with twice as many children joining the hunt as last year!

The Hunt, which was organised by the Friends of Carr Bank in association with Mansfield District Council was held over the Easter weekend. It is for children under the age of eight who live in the vicinity of the park.

Friends of Carr Bank hid 50 eggs in trees and shrubs around the park, while large yellow rabbit foot prints helped the younger hunters find the hidden eggs.

A craft workshop and demonstrations in making Easter bunny bags was also organised to follow the hunt by volunteer Barbara Stark.

If you would like to co-ordinate an activity on any of our parks please contact Jane Hicken, Parks Development Officer, Telephone: 01623 463245.

NEIGHBOURHOOD RENEWAL COMMUNITY CHEST FOR MANSFIELD & AREA

Do you know a community or voluntary group that could benefit from a small grant from a new and exciting programme? Yes. Then Neighbourhood Renewal Community Chest may be for you. What is the Neighbourhood Renewal Community Chest for Mansfield?

Neighbourhood Renewal Community Chest for Mansfield is a small grants programme which is part of the Government's strategy for regenerating the most deprived neighbourhoods. It provides small amounts of funding to help local people become involved in improving their communities.

Who can apply? Voluntary or community groups can apply, this simply means groups which have a charitable aim, you don't have to be a registered charity but you must have a set of rules or constitution. If your group does not have a bank account, you will need to find a group who may be able to accept the funds on your behalf, such as a community and voluntary service organisation (CVS).

Does the Neighbourhood Renewal Community Chest have any priorities? Yes. It will be targeted to help the most deprived communities in Mansfield at a very local level; there are also priorities which relate to marginalised communities such as: black and minority ethnic, refugees, young people, travellers, disabled people, faith communities & older people Groups applying for Community Chest funding will need to explain how their project or community fits these priorities.

Are there any particular themes that Community Chest can be used for?

There are 5 broad objectives or themes for Community Chests:

- ◆ Encouraging greater involvement in local community activities.

- ◆ Building management and organisational skills

- ◆ Improving neighbourhoods

- ◆ Helping BME communities explore their history and promote racial harmony and social cohesion

- ◆ Supporting any other activity that enables the regeneration of communities.

What grants are available?

We will be able to make grants from £50 to £5,000 to groups. We particularly want to help small and new groups for whom this may be their first experience of applying for funding, but also welcome applications from more established groups.

What do you do next if you have a good idea that will help regenerate your community?

HOORAY FOR SMALL ANIMALS!!

I was very glad to hear about the Small Pet Awareness Day that the Old Mill Animal Supplies recently organised. This was probably aimed at children but I hope that parents learned something as well. Being the owner of 3 rabbits I know how important it is not only to feed the correct diet but also that these lovely little creatures need much more stimulation than being stuck in a hutch at the bottom of a garden with nothing to do all day and all night, every day and every night - can you imagine a life like that? Rabbits are naturally very inquisitive and love to get their little twitching noses into everything to have a look. They also love running and leaping around to stretch their legs and keep their claws down, which also keeps their weight down (and not to mention the odd little dig now and then, much to the dismay of my husband just like to say sorry to him) but under supervision and with certain "ground" rules your garden needn't be turned into a giant rabbit warren!

I know it should go without saying that all pets still need looking after when we go away on holiday but sadly this isn't always the case. I recently came across a bunny that was being left for 3 or 4 days at a time, without any food, water or bedding in a hutch much too small for her. She now lives with me and is happy (yes you really can tell when they are happy or sad), she has plenty of room and food and goes out for a daily run. It is a big responsibility having a pet but some people think that excludes small animals and that they can leave them to their own devices when they go away. Please remember that they are at our mercy and rely on us to look after them properly (which I'm happy to say that most people do) but there are still some exceptions. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank my wonderful father-in-law, Alan, who is always willing to help feed the rabbits when I go away (think he secretly quite enjoys it really) - thanks Alan.

A Country Affair by Rebecca Shaw

Kate starts a new job at a busy vet's practice. Her boyfriend, Adam, isn't happy that she's finding a life that doesn't include him and starts acting out of character and becomes very possessive especially when Scott, the handsome Australian vet, takes an interest in Kate.

This book is an easy reading, no concentration needed sort of book!

Electric God by Catherine Ryan Hyde

Hayden Reese once had it all but bit by bit he loses everything. His wife, his new born son, his daughter and finally his home after he ends up in prison.

The book starts in the present but skips back to Hayden's childhood, his marriage and then finally back to the present when his life is eventually starting to come together. Electric God is a very moving and inspirational book and turned into a real page turner!

CHURCH WARSOP MINERS WELFARE JUNIOR FOOTBALL CLUB FOOTBALL FOR ALL AGES AND ABILITIES

The new Church Warsop Miners Welfare Junior Football Club was established last year with two teams at under 8's and under 9's.

Both teams have had a successful first year, however the under 9's have rounded off an amazing first year by finishing runners up in the Junior Football Tours East Coast Cup and by winning their league.

Success on the pitch is not the main aim of the club, we are committed to providing quality coaching for all ages and abilities and currently work in local schools providing over 150 children a week with opportunities to play football.

Two children have reaped the rewards from our coaching and have secured places in professional clubs centre of excellences.

Ensuring high standards and the safety of children, our club is run to guidelines set by the Football Association and we have recently applied for the F.A. Charter Standard, which means a our Managers are F.A. and first aid qualified and have attended child protection courses.

Football development is overseen by Mark Craddock a fully qualified F.A. coach currently working for Chesterfield F.C. As part of Chesterfields development program, Mark runs a skill centre on Sunday mornings at Church Vale School. The centre for 7 to 10 year olds provides opportunities for children to progress to Chesterfields centre of excellence.

FROM THE EDITOR

I received a request from Trudie Crossan of Warsop to publish the following poem which she sent to the Queen Mother for her 80th birthday. Trudie is particularly keen to highlight the last line of the poem.

(I am delighted to be able to publish this poem and would welcome others
S Bowman, Editor)

"That Certain Smile"

As I strolled through Sherwood Forest admiring some squirrels lovely and brown,

I suddenly had a desire to go to London town,

Excitedly in London, I knocked upon a door, a butler said, come in please,

Then a lady smiled at me, but I didn't feel at ease,

To the butler I apologised as I left the door,

I said, I am very sorry Sir, but that is not the smile I am searching for,

The special lady I know has travelled many miles visiting far off parts,

That certain smile has always captured millions of hearts,

I strolled through London town again up and down a cobbled street,

Searching for a wonderful lady I dearly wished to meet,

I found a very large building; the iron gates were high and wide,

But the duty policeman would not let me go inside.

I was disillusioned and cold as my blood drained from every vein,

Because I began to wonder if my journey was in vain,

Lonely and very tired I turned to go away,

Feeling very disappointed because I knew it was our lady's special day,

My sadness turned to joy when at a window I saw a figure there,

Smiling as always and waving with loving care,

All of a sudden echoing through London the bells rang out loud and clear,

To celebrate a very special birthday of our lady so dear,

The crowds started cheering and shouting away,

Then out came our lady, who is grand in every way,

Gracefully she moved, demure and so elegantly she stood,

Giving us all that well known wonderful smile which I knew she would,

Who was it, with that certain smile; well it could not belong to any other,

But my sweetheart, our glorious and gracious lovely Queen Mother,

Dame Vera Lynn is the forces sweetheart she sang very sweetly far away,

But I am certain, that our dear lady will be a sweetheart for ever and a day,

I returned to Sherwood Forest, but I prayed when the day was done,

For God to grant our dear Queen Mother, the best of health and strength, for many years to come.

The fine local walk for this time of year takes in Collier Spring Wood at Church Warsop to see the brilliant display of bluebells. The management of these woods has allowed more light in and the woodland flowers have thrived. A good route is to walk through the woods and then follow the public footpath than runs parallel to the disused railway line. When you leave the woods near the pedestrian tunnel beneath the railway you can either turn right through the tunnel into Cuckney Hay Wood or continue straight on to meet William Wood Lane. At this point you can turn left towards Warsop Vale or return to Church Warsop along the line of the railway.

If you share this group's interest in the local countryside I would like to recommend the WEA course covering the archaeological and agricultural landscape of Warsop that starts on 23rd May. The tutor, Ian Wall, gave a similar course last year that was particularly interesting and enjoyable. This course promises to have a strong Warsop focus and should give insights into how our landscape developed.

On the first Sunday of every month we are out and about in Warsop doing maintenance work on the footpaths and other conservation work. If you come across us, stop for a chat, we appreciate any excuse for a rest! If you would like to join us you don't need to be particularly fit - there are always jobs like raking up grass, cutting brambles and handing round the tea and biscuits! Call us if you are interested in helping in any way.

You can contact the Secretary on Telephone: 01623 46281

WF&CG is a community group whose members share an interest in the countryside. We help maintain the public footpath network in Warsop, we undertake conservation projects and we provide information about the local environment.

The Royal British Legion

Dear Sir,

Please accept the thanks of our Branch for agreeing to Referee our application for a grant from the Nottinghamshire Community Foundation to obtain a portable sound system for use by us at the annual Remembrance Day Service and for other suitable occasions.

You will be pleased to note that our application was successful. It is a condition of the award that we undertake to make the system available to any other group or voluntary organisation within our community when they may require it (subject to availability). Being fully portable, and with a radio microphone, the system has many applications and it is the hope of both our branch and the Foundation that it is fully utilised.

We are keen to advertise the availability of the equipment within the community and ask that the Parish Council assist us by bringing it to the attention of groups and voluntary organisations in our community whenever you are able to do so.

Yours sincerely

GARDENING NOTES FROM GMH
YOUR GARDEN IN MAY

As these notes are written in early April the daffodils are beginning to fade, but what a good show we have had around the area. The ground under the magnolia is white with flower petals that have dropped; soon it will be the almond blossom etc.

The month of May is sometimes disappointing in as much that the weather can be a bit inclement, but, as we have always done in the past we will manage to do whatever needs doing. Beware late frosts this month. Tender plants in the cold frame will receive a severe cutback if the covers are not put over the cold frames or whatever you use. Frost, cold air is the heaviest therefore it will find all the hollows and dips and congregate here as much as possible. There are plenty of materials nowadays to cover over any susceptible plants that are half hardy, late frosts invariably occur on still nights with little air movement.

It is wise to take stock of one's activities in the garden twice a year, one in autumn and one in May. Assess the position in regard to essential crops. There is still time to sow or plan most vegetables and flowers. Tender subjects like marrows or kidney beans should never be sown in open ground before mid May. Practically every variety of vegetable, sown late, will germinate quickly, and in the more genial weather conditions often catch up with those sown earlier, which may have received a check in growth.

Now that the roots of plants are active it is a good time to apply a quick acting fertiliser in the form of a complete mixture containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

If any plants are lagging use a small dose of quick acting nitrogen. This goes for lawns too, in which a dressing of sulphate of ammonia, with the addition of 20% sulphate of iron, will encourage increased root action. This will be a benefit in dry weather. 2oz per sq yard is a satisfactory application for all fertilisers. If you buy bedding plants from a shop or nursery remember they will have been grown in a heated environment and will hardening off. Jack Frost is not choosy what he hurts and tender plants are his delight. The onlooker is often envious of the colourful show created by biennials and perennials in other people's gardens. Sometimes a decision is made to acquire stock of such plants when time comes to planting them; which varies from autumn to spring – generally ending as an unfilled good intention. Far better to look ahead and raise a supply of seedlings which will flower profusely the following year. Named varieties are somewhat superior but own grown are colourful and satisfying. Each seedling is an entirely new plant and could be a different shade to the others, to duplicate, take cuttings or division and give them a name of your choice.

Biennials build up growth the first year and after over-wintering, flower and exhaust themselves through producing seed, some of which you keep and sow when ready, these should be sown by the end of May.

Never grow double daisies (Bellis) edging a border by a lawn if you value a daisy free lawn; for they seed freely and often revert to the original type. Aubrietia sown in May will provide a glorious range of colour the following spring, and continue forever, remember to clip after first flowering is over and it will bloom again. Some perennials if sown under cover early will probably produce nice material for indoor decoration by late summer, notably Delphiniums and Rudbeckia. It is worthwhile to scan a comprehensive seed catalogue and give a trial to one or two of the more unusual types.

Most biennial and perennial seed may be sown in the outdoor plot, but some, as the Campanula and many Alpines, with dust like seed, are better sown under control in protected frame or box. This also applies to expensive F1 hybrid seed if you buy any.

The longer the first season of growth in perennials the larger and stronger will be the plants when comes the time of planting in autumn. It is an advantage to well prepare the seed bed. In the garden it is helpful to rake in some peat and sow in shallow drills. It is amazing what a mass of roots develop in a moist peaty seed bed. A light dressing of super phosphate of lime raked into the bed prior to sowing will assist in root development. The growing media for boxes must be light and porous in character. Ready mixed compost may be purchased, a good plan if only a small amount is required, otherwise two parts loam, one part peat and one part coarse sand, with a sprinkling of supers of lime. The garden may be made a happy place, with lots to look forward to, pleasant for both self and neighbours, but do not let it rule your life.

May your garden be more pleasing this year than ever before.

Happy Gardening

WARSOP CARNIVAL

Spring is in the air, the days are getting longer and Warsop Carnival is just around the corner.

As ever our small but dedicated committee has worked tirelessly throughout the long winter months, to gain funding and organise this year's event.

Now in our 15th year, planning and organising our event doesn't get any easier!

Some criticism was levied towards us last year in the local press, some comment misguided but some points justified and this year we have looked to make things a little different!

We are one of the largest free shows in the area and aim to be the Best! To achieve that we need the whole community to get behind us and make carnival weekend a real lift to the Town.

As we are in the Queens Jubilee Year we will make that our theme for our parade and floats! We appeal to all our local schools, youth groups and charitable organisations to make a great effort to enter a float or decorate a car!

We are always supported by local transport companies and owe a lot of our success to Bowings, Eastwoods, Glebe Farm, Peter Parkin and many others for providing lorries & drivers to make our parade a great spectacle!

We hope to have our usual array of marching bands and artists to help create a great atmosphere. Because we are in Jubilee Year our Town centre will be decked in bunting from late May, adding to our carnival fever but also creating the right environment to celebrate the Jubilee in early June 2002.

How is our carnival going to be different?

Well for a start we are planning to have an extended music festival with live bands performing Saturday 6th July 4 – 9.30pm in addition to carnival afternoon – full line up to be confirmed in our next edition

WATCH this space (Some great local talent on show).

Carnival Day 7th July 2002 will kick off earlier with an extended football competition starting at 9.00am.

We will operate two main show arenas with following acts already booked.

M.A.D – The UK's No1 Mountain Bike Stunt Team.

The Vander Brother's Millennium Wheel Spectacular.

Generation Game Sumo Wrestlers.

Hollis Hawk and Falconry Display

Marching Bands

British Parachute Training School Display Team

PLUS

Helicopter Rides, Fairground and a varied array of static displays, charity stalls and not least Nottinghamshire's Premier Flower Show!!

Chad Road Show, Classic Cars, Balloon Race, Junior Pop Idol and MUCH MORE.

We're sure that there will be more than enough to entertain every one of all ages throughout two fun PACKED days!!

Put the dates in your diary Sat 6th – Sunday 7th July 2002 –

Warsop Carnival – The Carrs.

I leave you with some pictures of last years fun – Anyone requiring forms to register stalls can obtain them from Wettons Butchers. Tel: 01623 842138. See you there! Andy Wetton Chairman Warsop Carnival Committee

Warsop News

Now that I have opened a permanent office base at 14 High Street in Warsop and have regular and advertised surgeries there, lots of people are taking the opportunity to seek advice; help and giving me their point of view.

In a democracy that is healthy. The more contact the MP has with constituents the better, in my view.

What I don't think we need in Warsop though is more consultation on the future of Warsop.

Warsop has been consulted to death.

What is needed is some action. And there is government money available.

The housing in the Town Centre and in Warsop Vale is at last going to be sorted out.

I can't guarantee that every individual will be 100% happy, but the community overall will benefit greatly. I can guarantee that no individual family need lose out though.

It's the same for the Town Centre shopping. There are plenty of consultant's reports. But lets just get on and demolish top Cat and build a new doctor's surgery nearby.

National government isn't going to wait forever for a consensus to be reached and neither should they.

Britain is not some second rate nation. We are world leaders and we need to play a proper role in world affairs. Part of my job though is to ensure that appropriate Government Ministers get up here and don't take their eye of the agenda.

Good schools, more money for the NHS, new jobs, attacking child poverty and a fair deal for pensioners: these are the priorities and rightly so.

There are too other priorities. At last we have a Chief Constable with the money and the desire to put police back on the beat.

I applaud this.

I am also supporting in Parliament new laws to give victims of crime proper rights. For too long we have ignored victims of crime and I fully support these new laws.

The other major issue is compensation to miners and former miners for chest disease vibration white finger.

£200 million is going to be paid put to Bassetlaw people in the next two years in compensation.

This is a massive sum of money in people's pockets.

I have worked hard to get these payments moving faster and it is happening.

I hope those receiving the money will spend some of it in Warsop shops.

Talk the Walk in Warsop

Residents in Warsop now have the chance to live a healthier lifestyle thanks to a pioneering new project launched by leading environmental regeneration charity, Groundwork.

The 'Talk the Walk' project aims to promote a more active lifestyle within the local community through walking, therefore improving the health and quality of life for those involved. It will provide weekly led walks where people can exercise, make new friends and become involved with nature and the area in which they live.

The project is a partnership between Groundwork Ashfield & Mansfield, Warsop Footpaths Group, Mansfield District Council and Mansfield Primary Care Trust. A New Opportunities Fund grant through the Countryside Agency is funding the project over 3 years.

BYERS AND MEACHER LAUNCH ABANDONED CARS CRACKDOWN

Tough new measures to clamp down on abandoned cars which came into force yesterday have been welcomed by Stephen Byers, Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions and Michael Meacher, Environment Minister.

The measures for local authorities include:

- ◆ Powers to remove vehicles abandoned on the street anywhere in England after 24 hours instead of the present seven days
- ◆ Increased opportunities to work with DVLA to remove unlicensed cars.
- ◆ Powers to dispose more quickly of unlicensed vehicles removed under DVLA powers, after 7 days rather than 35.
- ◆ Easier tracing and clarification of vehicle ownership through additional funding from the 'Invest to Save' programme.

Stephen Byers said: "Abandoned cars blight neighbourhoods, can be hazardous, especially to children, and are arson cases waiting to happen. They can also make the lives of local residents a misery. "That is why we are taking these immediate steps to address the problem. This is an important part of our safer streets agenda. Local councils will, now have the power to remove many abandoned cars after 24 hours, rather than seven days as before. "We are also encouraging local councils to work in partnership with the DVLA and other authorities, making real inroads into the bureaucratic barriers that have frustrated action in the past.

"Specifically, tracing vehicle owners will now be easier as a result of a successful Invest to Save Bid, which has resulted in an investment of £2.7 million to make available computer links between the DVLA and local councils. "This initiative demonstrates our firm commitment to improving the public space-making a real difference in people's lives and the places in which they live and work.

The Government intends to introduce reforms to the vehicle registration system to ensure that, in future, all vehicles can be traced to the correct keeper. The principles of this were widely supported in the consultation exercise. We will discuss the details with interested parties, particularly motorists and businesses. Environment Minister Michael Meacher said:

"We are determined to put an end to the abominable eyesore on roads and also in the countryside of thousands of abandoned vehicles which are sometimes not removed for months. They diminish the quality of peoples' local environment and can act as a magnet for more serious anti-social behaviour.

"The new regulations tackle the problem head-on giving councils the right to remove vehicles left abandoned anywhere in England after 24 hours.

"I fully support the measures outlined by Stephen Byers to improve the accuracy of the vehicle register and to make owners take full responsibility for their vehicles.

"It is simply not right that an irresponsible minority of motorists should attempt to evade their responsibilities for registering, insuring and maintaining their vehicles."

Notes for Editors

The Government launched a consultation in October 2001 on measures to deal with the problem of abandoned cars. The paper attracted over 350 responses, generally supporting the proposals. The main proposals were:

- ◆ Reducing the notice periods after which it is possible for local authorities to remove abandoned vehicles, from 7 days to 24 hours in the case of vehicles with no value, the category into which the majority of abandoned vehicles fall. This will enable local authorities to get rid of vehicles more quickly, reducing the risk that they will be vandalised once a notice has been attached to them, or that vehicles will simply be moved and parked somewhere else.
- ◆ Reducing the notice periods after which unlicensed vehicles can be destroyed once they have been removed, from 35 to 7 days for vehicles without value.
- ◆ Giving local authorities new powers to act against unlicensed vehicles, building on a pilot scheme currently under way in Newham.
- ◆ Improving access by local authorities to the DVLA vehicle record, ensuring that they can obtain details of the registered keeper more quickly and easily.
- ◆ Developing proposals for changing the vehicle registration system to ensure that all vehicles can be associated with a registered keeper who has clear responsibility for meeting costs and complying with responsibilities associated with the vehicle, until DVLA has been properly notified of a change of keepership.
- ◆ Invest to Save Budget is a HM Treasury/Cabinet Office led competition involving £380m over the period to 2003/2004 designed to develop projects which bring together two or more public bodies to deliver services that are more innovative, more joined up, more responsive and more efficient.
- ◆ The Prime Minister noted in his speech on Livability (Croydon, April 2001) that abandoned cars are one of the ways that local public space is debased. The Government set up a cross cutting review on improving the public space as part of the SR2002 process. The Review has undertaken a wide ranging study of all public services, programmes and policies which impact on the quality of streets and local public spaces. It is also looking at how Government policy can contribute to making everybody's local environment clean, safe and pleasant to walk through.

Tackling abandoned vehicles is an important part of this.

NATURAL HEALTH AND BEAUTY

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

If you were confused by the sentence 'doomed never to fail' in the second paragraph of the Food for Thought article in the March edition of the Warsop and District News it was an editing error. The sentence should have been printed as 'doomed to fail'.

Now for the positive as this month's article is about foods that you should be eating daily.

We should all be eating a minimum of 5 portions of fruit and/or vegetables each day. These can be fresh, frozen, canned, dried or juiced. Fruit and vegetables provide essential vitamins and minerals and are an important source of fibre in the diet.

A portion is classed as:

1 piece of fresh fruit e.g. an apple or orange
Small fruits e.g. plums
1 cup of grapes or berries
2-3. Tablespoons of stewed or canned fruit
Small bowl of salad
2-3 tablespoons of vegetables
150 ml glass of juice
1 tablespoon dried fruit

Fruit juice counts as only one portion however much you drink in a day. Similarly beans and pulses count as one portion irrespective of how many you eat each day.

Some ways that you can increase the number of portions of fruit and vegetables in your diet are:

Chopping a banana or other fruit on to cereals
A glass of pure fruit juice with breakfast
Milk shakes made with fresh or frozen fruit
Making lollipops by freezing pieces of banana, Satsuma etc.
Mixing grated raw carrot with sandwich fillings
Fruit and vegetables sticks with dips
Salad with a packed lunch
Using more vegetables in stews
Home made vegetable soups etc.

As well as eating a minimum of 5 portions each day it is important to try and eat different coloured ones. Think of traffic lights and by eating red, amber and green fruits or vegetables you will get a variety of vitamins and minerals.

Fruits must be the original and best "fast food" as they come in a handy size with their own biodegradable packaging and are cheap and readily available.

Happy healthy eating.

MEDEN CHARITABLE FUND SPONSORED BY COALFIELDS REGENERATION TRUST

Meden Charitable Fund were lucky enough to receive funding from Coalfields Regeneration Trust during the latter part of 2000. The funds were awarded for the purchase of the leasehold of shop premises and their refurbishment and for some of the running costs involved.

A big Thank you to Coalfields Regeneration Trust for their faith in our venture.

During the period of funding we were surprised to learn that we have been able, through your generosity, to donate the massive amount of £22,000, to groups within the locality, nearly half of which was used to provide new equipment for the benefit of patients of Meden Vale Medical Centre.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has supported us in any way since we started as a small group in the summer of 1998. We have gone from strength to strength and hope we can rely on your support in the future.

Thank you

Maximising potential

Meden wins an award for school achievement

The Meden School has won a DfES school achievement award for improving examination results over a three year period from 1998 to 2001.

This is the latest accolade for Meden which gained specialist school status as a Technology College in 2001.

This award recognises the hard work put in by all of the staff over the last few years and complements the Investors in People award gained in 2000 and again in 2001.

Meden will now be entitled to add the special award logo to the school stationery but the main benefit comes in the form of cash bonuses to be distributed to all of the staff who worked at the school during 2000-2001.

The Headteacher, Patrick Cook, said 'This is the first time that the school has won the prestigious award, hopefully it won't be the last. I am delighted that the efforts of the whole staff team have been recognised in such a tangible way.

MANSFIELD DISTRICT COUNCIL WORKING FOR THE FUTURE

MTI helps Spruce up Community Hospital following radio appeal

An appeal for plants to help brighten up a dull garden area of Mansfield's Community Hospital has led to a helping hand from trainees at Mansfield Training Initiative (MTI) who have donated a large selection of plants and shrubs.

A radio appeal was made by volunteers Julianne Ezra and Vinolia Anku, who are working for Groundwork Ashfield and Mansfield as part of a volunteer programme called the World Youth Millennium Awards organised by VSO (Voluntary Services Overseas) and the Princes Trust.

They asked for people to donate plants, trees and shrubs as part of a project to brighten up the garden area around the Sherwood Rehabilitation Unit into a colourful, exciting rehabilitation area for patients at Mansfield Community Hospital on Stockwell Gate.

Jo Brown of MTI, which is run by Mansfield District Council, heard the appeal and realised they could help with some spare plants at their Bellamy Road Horticulture Centre in Mansfield.

"When I heard the appeal I thought that as well as it being a help to the Community Hospital it would also be a great benefit to our trainees. We had the plants going spare and thought it would be an ideal project for them to do," explained Jo.

"Our trainees have taken cuttings from the shrubs and have been involved in this sort of work and it will help them with their training."

The trainees who are all aged between 18 and 25 are taking part in the horticulture course under the New Deal programme.

During last weekend 17 volunteers from around the UK and Ghana spent time as part of the project, preparing the land and helping to paint the murals in order for the work to be carried out on Monday.

Patients will use the area for valuable practice in walking on varied surfaces in the new garden including grassed areas, paving and gravel. This will be integrated into the landscaped area along with the donated plants and shrubs and a colourful mural painting designed by pupils at Newgate Lane School and Sutton Road Primary School in Mansfield.

If you are able to spare some time to help maintain the new garden contact Lorraine Overton at Mansfield Community Hospital on Tel: (01623) 785006.

Notes to Editor

The trainees are taking part under the New Deal Programme. It means they have all been out of work for six months or more and are aged between 18 and 25.

Changes to Warsop Policing

From 2nd April 2002, the policing of Mansfield Division changed.

Apart from as most of the town centre regulars will agree they have actually seen "Bobbies" on "Foot" complete with Big Hats.

This all complies with the Force Policing Plan which basically means that the policing areas now comply with the local council areas, so, Warsop benefits slightly with more foot patrol officers.

Another significant change is that Pc 120 Clyde Derbyshire is now designated Beat Manager for Meden Vale, Church Warsop and Warsop Vale. In plain English he is the local bobby now for those villages.

His role in Warsop has been taken over by Pc 216 Frank Fisher who has been one of the regular panda car officers for the village for several years and he will try to fill Pc Derbyshire's shoes.
